Getting Featured on our Social Media

How to get featured on YWP Social Media

To clarify how members can get their photos featured on the YWP Instagram page, the process is simple: Post your image on Instagram and tag @YoungWildlifePhotographers.

From there, we randomly select images to feature across both Instagram and Facebook. This ensures a fair opportunity for all members to have their work showcased while maintaining a diverse and engaging feed that represents our entire community.

Recently, we have also begun selecting random names from our member list to feature as many photographers as possible. However, preference will always be given to those who actively tag YWP in their posts. By tagging us, you make it easier for us to see your work and consider it for a feature.

We appreciate all the incredible content our members share, and we love celebrating the talent within YWP! Keep tagging us and sharing your amazing wildlife moments.
